Unique outdoor baptism is a return to early century for local church

The Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor of Canyon First Baptist Church, stands knee-deep in a metal cattle tank for prayer before he begins a baptismal service for four youngsters Sunday. Then, as a small crowd of worshippers and curious cattle look on, the baptism is conducted.

The four girls smiled through drenched shivers as the moisture-starved mid-afternoon summer breeze rustled somberly through leaves of the years-old elm above.

Their child-hands clutched goose-flesh sides as they turned red cheeks to accept caresses of good will from passing parents and aunts and uncles.

Behind them, grazing at a distance easily reached by an 11-year-old's stone throw, bald-faced calves glanced toward the house with only mild indifference, lower jaws grinding circularly in precise unison.

The labored notes of a portable pump organ reached into the crowd to guide them in the singing first of "Shall We Gather at the River," and then, as the service closed, of "On the Stormy Banks of the Jordan."

A battered hymnal in his left hand, his right hand pounding the air in time to the music, J. C. Newton urged his voice to rise above those of the others in the small gathering. Then, placing his songbook aside, he lifted each of the youngsters from the chill water of the cattle tank and their teeth chattered and their eyes danced from mother to daddy and aunt to uncle and back.

"That sure brought back memories," Newton said later, his mind slipping back in time to a similar Sunday afternoon 42 years ago. " 'On the Stormy Banks of the Jordan'—they sang that when I was baptized."

The open air baptism, conducted in a metal windmill-fed cattle tank located on the Lindsey Ranch west of Canyon Sunday, undoubtedly brought back memories for others of Newton's age.

For members of the Canyon First Baptist Church, the outdoor ceremony was possibly unique

'Let 'em build their own courts'--Moore

If local residents want tennis courts in Canyon, let them build them themselves, Canyon School Board member Dr. Dudley Moore said Monday night.

"If these men are ready to have their own courts, let them get out and raise their own money," Moore told other board members.

Moore responded to an invitation from the Canyon Chamber of Commerce for board members to attend a meeting scheduled next Tuesday night to discuss possible school and city financing of tennis courts for the city.

Recalling that years ago he and other local residents raised their own funds and then themselves constructed a baseball park here, Moore charged that if those in the city who want tennis courts don't do the same thing "it's because the guys who're doing all the yakking are afraid to get their hands dirty.

"If these guys want courts, let them get out with dirty hands and overalls and build their courts themselves," he said. "I'm convinced that's the way it has to be done."

"I sure don't play tennis," intoned Supt. Jerry Jacobs, "but if I did, I wouldn't be interested in playing on the courts these guys would build."

"Well," Moore responded, "they can engineer the whole thing. I'm tired of their talking."

Directors of the Canyon chamber recently issued invitations to the school board and the city commission to attend a joint meeting Tuesday to explore the financial avenues available for funding of construction of tennis courts in the city. In a recent News article, several local tennis buffs underscored the need for tennis courts here. The only courts available to local tennis players are at West Texas State University.

Moore said he will repeat his comments concerning school participation in financing of tennis courts at the Tuesday night session.

In other business Monday night, board members voted with some hesitancy to continue next school year paying teachers $500 per year above the state minimum salary schedule.

Jacobs told the board he has not yet prepared accurate budget figures for next school year, although he is fairly certain the district will have to dip into a $200,000 unencumbered reserve fund for about $25,000 to $30,000 to meet operating costs next year.

Taxes will also have to rise by about five cents, he said, for the district to be able to meet its obligations as outlined under recent state legislation.

Jacobs urged the salary schedule be retained for the next year.

"We need to stay in basically the same bargaining position we have been in for good people," he said.

"I think they need the other $500," Moore said, and moved that the schedule be retained.

Even though the salary schedule will be retained for next fall and spring, Jacobs indicated he cannot yet predict what the salary schedule should be for the 1976-77 school term.

He said the legislation passed earlier this month mandating a new formula for figuring state financing of education has been viewed as only a temporary measure and as such, the bill makes long-range planning difficult.

During the discussion of salary schedules for faculty members, the board also discussed the possibility of going to a full four-quarter school year.

Moore asked about the possibility of using such a system here, but Jacobs responded that with the holiday and teacher in-service day schedule in effect now for the Canyon district a true fourth quarter would be impossible to work out.

High school and junior high vandals cause unprecedented damage to schools

Students vandalized equipment, buildings and other property at an unprecedented rate in Canyon's schools last school year, local officials report.

"I've never run into as much of it in my school career," Supt. Jerry Jacobs said.

Through the school year, students have ripped soap dispensers from bathroom walls at the high school, done likewise to the tissue holders, torn doors from stalls in the bathrooms, stolen fire extinguishers, cut and mutiliated auditorium seats, and broken windows.

That's in addition to using aluminum spray paint to boast of being "CHS Sr. 75," on school house walls and campus sidewalks.

School District Business Manager Ronnie Woods said he's been most surprised by the condition of the auditorium seats in the almost-new Canyon Junior High School. Many seats have been cut with pocket knives and some will have to be replaced. The junior high school has been broken into four times and burglars have broken into the high school twice this past year, he said. Only small change and stamps were taken in each burglary.

Woods said the majority of vandalism occurs at the high school and junior high campuses with only minor vandalism at the district's two elementary schools.

Vandals struck earlier this week at the junior high, smashing large panel windows and skylights. Window replacement — without labor costs — will total about $60 to $80 per panel, Woods said.

So bad has the vandalism become here that Woods and Jacobs will keep a separate book account next year to determine the full cost of vandalism acts to school property.

Neither will hazard a guess as to how much vandalism cost the taxpayer this past year.

In a report issued to school board members Monday night, Woods outlined more than 120 separate items which should be repaired before the opening of school in the fall. More than 10 per cent of the items listed for repair are the result of vandalism.

School Board Member Dr. Dudley Moore suggested during the Monday night session that it might be well for the district to begin charging each student a special fee to cover vandalism.

However, school officials are hesitant about such an approach.

As Secondary Curriculum Director Ruth Holladay said: "If you charge them $2.50 for vandalism, they're going to think they've got to tear up $2.50 worth of stuff to get their money's worth."

Jacobs is at a loss on what to do about the vandalism.

"I hope there's some way or other these kids will cut it down, he said. "We just have to get our people to work on it and hope people will keep a better eye on the schools."

Gilley Martin of Tangle-Aire Estates Unit 2 eyes the completion of curb-and-gutter streets in the subdivision in the northwestern portion of the county. The development is the first in the county to meet new road specifications laid down by county commissioners.

Nicotine affects life substance, could be cancer link, says grad.

"Nicotine affects in some manner the biological activity of DNA," says West Texas State University graduate student in biology Bob Riehl after a year of intensive laboratory work, "and further research is needed."

This new threat to the chemical threads that control the cell's life processes does not mean that cigarette smokers should immediately throw away their nicotine-filled tobacco.

However, "We know that nicotine affects the growth of an organism," the Dalhart High School graduate points out. "I can put roughly the concentration of the drug found in one cigarette in the growth medium and the cells won't grow."

Riehl has been checking the affects of nicotine on DNA by counting the number of transformations which take place after the naked DNA has been exposed to the drug. Transformation is a cell's incorporation into its own genetic endowment of DNA coming from another cell. In his experiments, Riehl has been placing naked DNA in varying concentrations of nicotine solutions and then counting the number of uptakes by other cells.

"The greater the nicotine concentration, the fewer transformations which take place," he explains. The longer the DNA is exposed to the nicotine also makes the transformation count go down.

"Either the DNA is being harmed, or something has happened to the cell," Riehl observes. "The results of our studies indicate that the DNA is being taken up by the cell regardless of the nicotine concentration, but there is a depression of the transformation, which means the genes are not being expressed. So we know something is happening."

His findings could have some relevance to cancer research, whose goal is to identify why cells begin growing uncon-

West Texas State University graduate student Bob Riehl illustrates how his experiments over the past year and a half have shown that nicotine, one of the by-products of cigarette smoke, affects the basic building-block of life — DNA.

Congress passes bill for city HUD funding

Canyon should receive about $30,000 in federal funds for street paving in the western portion of the city after July 1, Panhandle Regional Planning Commission Director George Loudder said this week.

Loudder said Congress has passed legislation appropriating funds to cities like Canyon which were left out of funding by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development under a recently passed Community Development Act.

He said he understands the funding has been appropriated at about the same level originally anticipated by Canyon city officials last fall when HUD initially said money would be available for local development projects.

Once-ired developers now proud of new roads

When the developers of Tangle-Aire Estates learned more than a year ago they would have to build city-type streets in their Lake Tanglewood area subdivision, they weren't happy.

But, the final touches were put on the streets — which are complete with curb and gutter — this week and the developers now say they're glad they were required to meet the standards.

Martin Gilley, who is in charge of sales at Tangle-Aire Estates unit 2, says he's proud of the streets which have been built to county standards for the development and believes the streets will aid in property sales.

The development, which overlooks both the Palisades and Lake Tanglewood to the northeast of Canyon, is the first in Randall County to meet the road specifications, which call for curb and gutter and city-type streets in subdivisions.

The difference in streets in the unit is easily spotted after driving on streets in unit 1, streets without curb and gutter and designed and constructed under road specifications promulgated years ago and discarded when county commissioners adopted their new standards about two years ago.

"We're really proud of the fact this is the first subdivision under the new road specifications," Martin said. "A lot of places are having problems but this is what can be done if the developer goes in and does it before he begins development."

Martin said the developers of Tangle-aire Estates unit 2 were, like other county subdivision developers, miffed two years ago when told they would have to construct city-type streets before the county would assume the responsibility for maintenance of their roads.

"Every developer put up a little stink," Martin said, "but I think it was a good idea really."

Martin said he believes the road specifications developers are required to meet for the county have turned out for the best and that the resulting streets will be a real asset for the sale of development property.

County commissioners will participate at 11 a.m. Monday in a ribbon cutting ceremony at the development.

Tangle-Aire Estates Unit 2 has 66 tracts ranging in size from .6 of an acre to three acres each. A restricted area, only homes of at least 1600 square feet will be allowed in the development and no move-in houses or mobile homes will be allowed.

Under the county road specifications, the developer must maintain the streets — in Tangle-Aire Estates Unit 2 that's six streets or about two miles of pavement — for two years before they can be turned over to the county for maintenance.

The subdivision must also have at least 12 houses before the county will assume responsibility for upkeep of the roads.

At the urging of Commissioner Paul Lindsey, commissioners examined their road paving policies about two years ago and hired Amarillo Engineer Bill McMorries to come up with new Barry Goldwater says he thinks it is inconceivable that John Kennedy did not know about a CIA plot to assassinate Fidel Castro back in the early 1960s while JFK was president.

We were in what amounted to a shooting war with Castro's Cuba at that time. What's so sacred about Fidel Castro?

We sent 18 year olds up on the beach at the Bay of Pigs to die. Is Castro any better than they?

I don't say we should go around bumping off heads of government with whom we do not agree but when we are shooting at each other I think the leader is the guy to go after.

There's not much doubt that the Kennedys had a hand in the plot that took the lives of the Diem family in South Vietnam.

Of this I certainly do not approve. The Diems were running what was supposed to be a friendly government and were our allies. They didn't have to be murdered for us to get rid of them.

For that matter, Franklin Roosevelt had Japan's Admiral Yamamoto done in and it helped the American war effort immeasurably.

I confess that I wouldn't shed a single tear for Fidel if his number came up this very day.

Konis Back In Canyon

One of the first pictures Ben Konis painted when he moved from New York to the Panhandle was entitled "Up From Canyon." The painting was of an old broken down farm house right at the top of the Canyon overlooking Buffalo Bowl. That was six years ago.

Konis is back in Canyon this week teaching as a guest artist at West Texas State University.

In the six years since he left New York, where he had a successful commercial art business, he has become known as one of the outstanding southwestern artists. He has exhibited in numerous group shows, as well as one-man shows and is a member of the Texas and New Mexico Fine Arts Associations, Equity Artists, and the Salmagundi Club. He has been a top prize winner in several exhibitions in the New York area and is now showing many prize-winning works depicting the southwest.

His paintings are in many prominent private collections and he has already been recognized as one of the most important and influential new painters in the Southwest. He is represented by galleries in New York and in New Jersey, and by the Reynolds Gallery in Taos, and with John Khoury of Dallas.

In addition to his painting, Konis conducts classes at his studio and throughout Texas and the Southwest.

Following high school in Perth Amboy, N.J., and four years in military service, the first-generation Lithuanian studied at the Caton-Rose Institute of New York City, where he received the fine arts degree. He also studied at the Art Students League, with Anthony Toney, at the New School for Social Research, and he worked and studied for some time in the studio of the late Albert T. Reid, famed chronicler of the old west.

Konis is primarily known for his bold yet sensitive paintings of southwestern Indians. He explains his love of Indians as painting subjects both in a cultural way and in a technical way. "I want to paint the way they live. I don't want to paint each stitch that I see, but their heritage, their culture, and various things that happen in their daily lives," he said.

Konis uses strong pattern and light combined with rich color and bold brush strokes. His use of Indian subjects allows him to use the bold colors he prefers. "They have dark rich colored skin, and they make their own vegetable dyes for their colorful clothing, and they have such character in their faces," Konis said. "The vastness and boldness of this country the Indians live in fits my palette perfectly," he added.

About half his work is devoted to Indians, the other varies between various landscapes of the Southwest and some western-cowboy works. He is particularly known for his depiction of New Mexico pueblos.

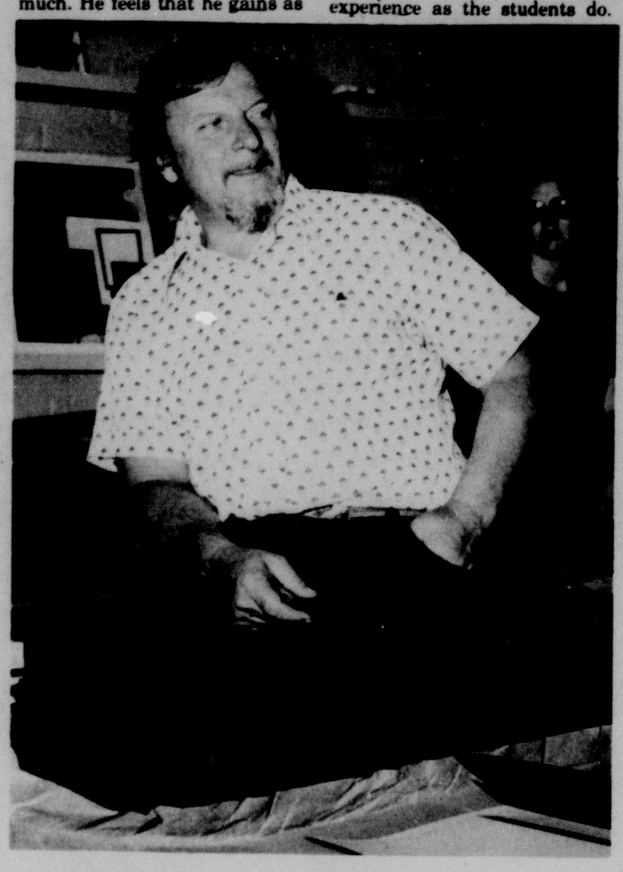
Even though he isn't a native of this area his ability to capture the flavor of southwestern life has surprised many. He likes to point out that for many years he was a member of the Eastern Rodeo Cowboy Association in New York where he roped calves and went on rodeo tours. He also studied under Albert T. Reid whom he points out was probably the greatest depicter of horses. Not the least of his links to this area is his wife, the former Jinni Landrum of Friona.

Konis is a demanding artist and teacher. He gives a great deal of emphasis to technique such as shading, and depth, and to physiology and proportion as regards the human body.

"Character" in a face is what Konis is always looking for in a subject. To him "character" is explained in many ways. It can be a heavily lined and wrinkled face, fine bone structure, a scarred face, even a face with paralysis on one side. He likes to unmask lifetimes of struggle, sorrow and despair.

For his classes at WT this week, he drives by the Texas Employment Commission and hires out-of-work men for his drawing subjects. "People who have really experienced life, both the good times and the bad, make excellent subjects, he says, "it shows in their face."

Konis enjoys teaching very much. He feels that he gains as much from the teaching experience as the students do.



Ben Konis, noted southwest artist of Amarillo

"Everytime I help them with a problem, I have gained that much more experience dealing for with my own," he said. Occasionally he picks up a new technique from a student too, he added.

"I try to teach my students all that I know," Konis said. Suggesting that some professional artists do not like to divulge many of their techniques to their students, Konis says he likes to teach all that he knows. "First of all, the work of my students reflects back on me," he says. "Second, the progress of my students spurs me on to better things . . . when they are really getting good, it's time for me to start moving forward too."

When asked about the difference of teaching art in college and teaching around the country in workshops, Konis said there was little or no difference in the way he handles a class. He feels there is a vast difference however, between the professional artist who teaches and the college art professor who teaches.

"The college art professor has either never been in the field, or hasn't been there in years," Konis said. When asked what "in the field" meant, Konis responded, "that's where the artist has to make his total living from selling his works." When you are "in the field" Konis says, "you have to balance your work between what the public wants and what you consider your own personal artistic integrity."

Amarillo Holds-out on Fire Agreement

The City of Amarillo is the only hold-out in Randall County on an agreement for fire protection in rural areas, according to County Commissioner Paul Lindsey.

Lindsey said the fire protection system outlined in the agreement is operating well even without the signature of Amarillo's mayor.

He said Amarillo may not sign the agreement, which includes procedures for fighting fires under the direction of the Canyon Fire Department, as it stands but may propose alternate conditions for participation.

Lindsey is author of the fire plan approved recently by Randall County commissioners and signed by the City of Canyon, the Happy Fire Department, Lake Tanglewood, Bushland, Umbarger and Siesta Plaza Mobile Home Park. The plan calls for the Canyon Fire Department to coordinate fire fighting in the county with the other entities' departments, and assigns specific areas where those departments would have first-call fire-fighting responsibility.

The agreement requires that the City of Amarillo will not respond to grass fires or car fires, but only to structural fires in the area assigned that city's fire department. The Canyon Fire Department has first-call responsibility for grass fires in that area.

Lindsey said he's been contacted by Amarillo officials who have said they may submit alternate proposals for Randall County consideration.

He said the fire plan is working well even without the formal signature of the City of Amarillo. He said the city is not responding to grass fires or other small non-structural fires in the area outside the city limits.

Choral Camp To Be Held

Over 150 area students will participate in the fifth annual West Texas Choral Music Camp, featuring guest conductor Dr. Lynn Whitten of the University of Colorado.

The choral music camp, which is sponsored by West Texas State University in Canyon, opens on June 22 and closes with a camp concert on June 28 at 4 p.m.

Featured conductor Dr. Lynn Whitten, a nationally-known choral conductor, who has served as choral clinician throughout the United States. He is widely known for his excellent work with junior and senior high students.

Assisting Dr. Whitten will be a number of guest faculty members, including Tom Jennings of Canyon; John Woicikowfski of Pampa; Charles Rives of Roswell; Doug Morris of Hereford; and Amarillo music educators Joel Shackelford, Jeff Ingham, Carolyn Kite and Lewis Unger. Nancy Glen is choral accompanist.

Students from Canyon attending the West Texas Choral Music Camp are Cindy Brasher, Vanessa Cotton, Pam Gray, Debbie Jeter, Stacy McAlpin, Roger Scott, Lori Slack, Melinda Brown, Twyla Davis, Jeanna Fulton, Steve Huffstutter, Maria Martin, Lisa White.

How Do W.T. Students Compare To Peers?

How do West Texas State University students compare to their college-bound peers who decide not to attend the Canyon institution?

Statistics provided by the authors of the standardized ACT test, one of two tests WTSU freshmen must have taken to gain entrance to the university, provide at least some insight into the comparison.

The statistics indicate that those freshmen who choose to attend WTSU are not much different from those freshmen who enter other colleges or universities.

They show for example, that the typical student who later enrolled at WTSU had a composite score on the ACT test of 18.4 and a high school average of 3.0. Of those taking the ACT test and indicating WTSU as one of their top choices for enrollment, but non actually enrolling at the institution, the composite score average of 19.5 and the national high school average of 2.8.

Other statistics from the summary:

Of those who enrolled at WTSU, the most important choice factors in choosing a college were field of study, cost and location. The same was true for those students who indicated they might attend WTSU but did not enroll last fall.

Students who later enrolled at WTSU indicated their first vocation choice would be in business and commerce and education while those who did not enroll said essentially the same thing.

Students in both the enrolled and unenrolled group identified their own personal needs for help in virtually the same percentages in the same areas. Math was seen by both groups as the area where help was needed most. Study skills ranked second for both groups and reading ranked third.

The race break-down of both groups is almost identical with the bulk of the students being identified as Caucasian-American.

Dr. Kenneth Waugh, head of the testing and counselling center on campus, said the statistical break-down for the 1974 freshman class is similar to other break-downs for other freshmen classes in the past at the university.

The statistics, which compare those freshmen who actually enrolled at WTSU with those who listed the university as one of their top three choices but did not enroll, indicate the WTSU student is not much different from the other students who are college-bound in the Panhandle area, he said.

School Board To Study Need For New Schools

Canyon School Board members are expected to appoint two committees Tuesday night to study the need for new schools here and to study ways of financing new facilities.

The need for the two committees — to consist of local citizens — was cited during a school board session two weeks ago as board members began planning for a possible bond issue in the fall for new schools.

Board members will also discuss an upcoming meeting with city of Canyon representatives and Canyon Chamber of Commerce officials concerning recreation facilities — particularly tennis courts — in Canyon.

That meeting has been set for June 24 by the chamber.

More Women Working Outside Home

More and more women are seeking employment outside the home. How do they feel about their changing role and its effect on their families?

The News talked with three city women who have families as well as jobs outside the home. Mrs. Earl (Karen) Peppard, a deputy tax collector for Randall County, Mrs. Don Max (Lila) Vars, assistant Dean of Admissions at WTSU, and Mrs. Joe (Lynda) Cooper, owner-operator of the "Towne Shop" in Canyon, discussed the changes in their lives as the result of becoming "working mothers."

All three of the women interviewed expressed a deep sense of satisfaction that they receive from their jobs. Mrs. Peppard said it this way, "I find my job challenging and I learn so much everyday...I really like tax work." "I have worked now for four years and I'm afraid I would be bored if I were ever at home all the time." Mrs. Peppard said.

Mrs. Peppard helps prepare the real estate tax role, new platts for Amarillo and Canyon, and figures values on properties for the Randall County Tax office. She is paid as an hourly employee and feels that this allows her accommodation whenever an emergency may arise and she needs to leave.

The mother of three boys ages 12, 9, and 7, Mrs. Peppard does her own housework and cooking. "My mother-in-law watches over the children when I'm not at home and it really helps."

Even though she is busy with her job and her home Mrs. Peppard has time to continue her club work and church work. She is President of the Amarillo Republican Women's Club and is very active in the First Assembly of God Church here in Canyon.

"Board and committee meetings are held at night for the Republican Women's Club because so many members do work," she said. The monthly general meeting is held at noon and only requires an additional thirty minutes on her lunch hour." Men have always had noon civic and social meetings and have been able to work them in, and working women can do the same," Mrs. Peppard said.

The three women interviewed said their children were given specific chores and responsibilities with regard to housework as a result of their mothers' working. Mrs. Peppard says her three boys are more mature because of their added responsibilities.

Having a supportive husband is a "must" if you work, all the women said. Mrs. Peppard's husband Earl, is an auditor for the Federal Housing Administration and travels alot. "He has always been very supportive," she said.

My house work is neglected sometimes because of my job, but never my family, Mrs. Peppard said. She feels a woman can definitely combine a job with her role as wife and mother.

Mrs. Vars, the assistant Dean of Admissions at WT, is the wife of Don Max Vars, president of the First National Bank. She is the mother of two daughters ages 12 and 9.

"My husband and I talked about it a long time before I actually began to look for a job," Mrs. Vars said. "I really had a drive to work outside the home," she added, and he was most supportive."

"I feel that I am a better mother and wife now that I am working" Mrs. Vars said. "I enjoy my work and I enjoy being around other adults and the students, she added. A woman's identity shouldn't be entirely tied to her husband's, she said. "Sometimes I like to be just "Lila Vars."

Mrs. Vars feels too that her children are benefitting from her working. "It's good for my girls, it's teaching them responsibility," she said. With the help of her children, she does her own cooking and housework too.

Mrs. Vars was concerned, she said, about her club activities when she went to work, but soon found that by setting priorities on the activities she was really interested in, she could work them in. "I excluded those activities that weren't very important to me," she said.

She is active in the Canyon Study Club, is an associate member of the University Study Club and serves on the district board of the federated clubs.

"During the past five years the Canyon Study Club has become composed almost entirely of women who work, she said. The clubs meets at night which makes it convenient for working women.

Mr. and Mrs. Vars are both very active in the First Baptist Church where they serve as directors of the single young adults class.

Mrs. Vars feels her working has interferred very little with her life. "Modern conveniences and technology has freed women from many time consuming household tasks and more and more of them are going to be seeking other outlets for their talents and energies," she said.

Mrs. Cooper, Lynda, as she is better known, has always worked. She and her husband, Joe, owner of KCAN Radio, have one daughter aged 13, and a dog named "Tinky."

Until her daughter was four years old, Lynda had maids come in and keep her. Then she put her in a church day care center which she said was "marvelous for her."

"Children need interaction with other children, she said, and "only children" need it even more." Many critics of working women charge that they relinquish supervision of their children to mere strangers. Lynda does not agree with this. All the women interviewed felt the most important consideration is the importance you place on your family, as well as on your own personal well being.

As Lynda put it, "We have always planned special times with our daughter and have always accommodated her school activities. Lynda's daughter has total responsibility for keeping the Cooper house this summer and has always had housekeeping chores.

Lynda feels that everyone should do what makes them, the individual, happy. If you have a job as a maid or as a president, if you do it well, you will get a great sense of satisfaction. "If staying at home was what I wanted to do, she said, I would do it well and be happy."

Lynda is active in the ladies division of Chamber of Commerce and enjoys it very much. "I like to be involved in making my community a better place to live in," she said.

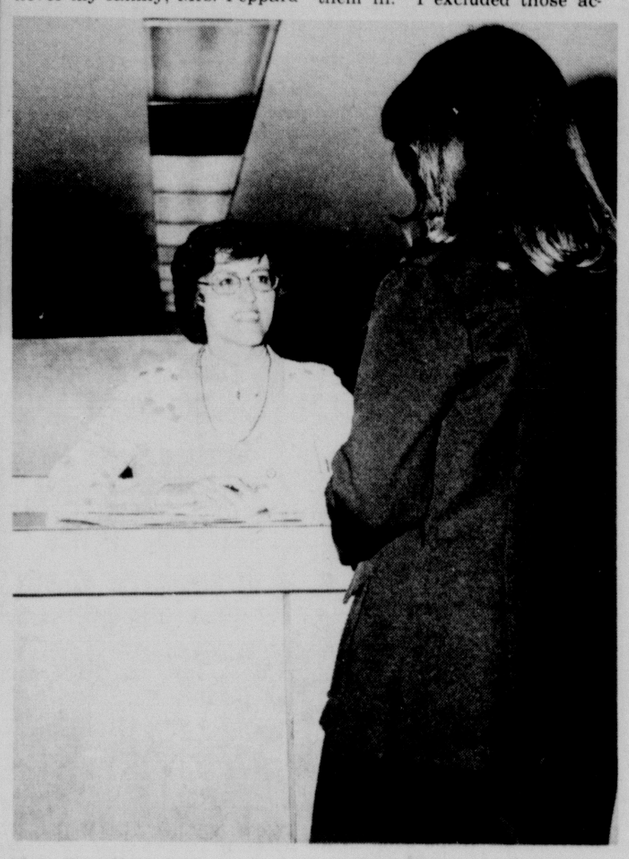
Lynda says her father always taught her to be independent and to be able to take care of herself. She says she has always worked in jobs where she was more or less her own boss, and likes it that way. She manages and works in the "Towne Shop," with "occasional advice" from her husband. Her husband Joe readily acknowledges that he respects his wife's opinion very much and that they have always "brainstormed" together about their plans. Even though she has always been "her own boss," Lynda says, "I enjoy being a woman."

These three women are examples of working mothers who have added another facet to their lives quite successfully.

Mrs. Peppard and Mrs. Vars said that twenty-five years ago they probably wouldn't be in the transitional phase they are in today. They feel the women's movement has had an impact on what they "could do with their lives."

Lynda Cooper said she would have been a "working woman" in any age she might have lived in.

Mrs. Joe (Lynda) Cooper, owner-operator of the "Towne Shop."



Mrs. Don Max (Lila) Vars, assistant Dean of Admissions at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Earl (Karen) Peppard, a deputy tax collector in the Randall County Tax Office.

Challenge Nets Two Maxivans For Geology

A challenge put to the West Texas State University Department of Geology by T. Boone Pickens, Jr. of Mesa Petroleum netted the department two Dodge Maxivans for use on field trips.

Approached last year by former WTSU student Mark Baker Pickens had agreed to donate one vehicle if WTSU could raise the funds to purchase another. The total cost of the two vehicles was $12,577.

Baker was president of the WTSU Geological Society at the time. The Dalhart native is currently working with Coastal States Gas Producing Company in Midland.

"These vehicles will transport geology classes into the field to see geology first-hand," said Dr. Robert Burton, head of the WTSU Geology Department. "In the past it was necessary to use many students' cars, which was clumsy, difficult and sometimes dangerous."

Burton raised the money to purchase the other vehicle by contacting companies, geologists, WTSU alumni and friends. Individuals and companies providing funds were Amarillo Oil Co., Robey Clark, Baker Taylor Drilling Co., Tol Ware, Bill Quackenbush, Dan Taylor, George Dobervich, Frank Rapstine, Yucca Petroleum, Mrs. Hughes Seewald, Amarex Petroleum, Charles Gibson, Ed Flood and Charles Buck.

The vehicles equipped with Citizens Band radios, will greatly simplify geological instruction and the students' and faculty members' travel to the WTSU Summer Geology Field Camp in Colorado, on field trips and to professional meetings.

The department has a goal of obtaining two more vehicles so they can adequately serve the needs of the 60 students enrolled each summer in the WTSU Geology Field Camp in Salida, Colo. Each van, specially equipped with extra seats, holds 15 students, and is designed for safe travel over rough terrain and in poor conditions.

"Obviously the need is for four such vehicles in order to serve the field camp," Burton said. "These first two are considered a significant beginning, and hopefully the others will be acquired in the near future with the continued support of industry, friends and alumni.

"Geology students will benefit for years to come from the generosity of those who have donated the funds," Burton concluded.

Baker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Baker of 3425 Amherst, Amarillo, and his wife LaNette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Graham of 3603 Lynette, Amarillo.

Service Sorority Holds Convention

Mrs. Shirley Harrold of 1014 South Parker in Amarillo will attend the Gamma Sigma Sigma National Convention to be held June 19-22, 1975 on the Ball State University campus in Muncie, Ind., and hostessed by Gamma Omicron Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma.

Mrs. Harrold is currently serving as Sectional Aide to Delta Beta Chapter at West Texas State University; to Delta Eta Chapter at the University of Texas at El Paso; and to the Wheatheart Alumnae Colony in Amarillo. Other positions she holds are Public Relations Assistant for the Lone Star Region and President of the Wheatheart Alumnae Colony in Amarillo.

Founded in 1952, Gamma Sigma Sigma is the largest women's service sorority in the United States. At present there are over 150 undergraduate and alumnae chapters and colonies dedicated to the ideals of service, friendship, and equality. The requirement for membership is willingness to give volunteer service to school, community, and nation. The organization's national project is working in public health.

Mrs. Harrold is a graduate of West Texas State University where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree while majoring in Psychology and minoring in Business Administration and Sociology. As an undergraduate she was active in Delta Beta Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma and held the positions of First Vice President, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, and Senate Representative.

Plaster's Children Visit

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John Plaster, 1004 5th Ave., are visiting with them this week,Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Branch, Charles and Jessica, of San Francisco, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Plaster of Lubbock.

Other weekend visitors included Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Edlin of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Branch of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Branch and children of Amarillo.

Canyon Dames Meet

The Canyon Dames met Wednesday for a salad luncheon at the Episcopal Student Center. Serving as hostessses were Mrs. Thomas Koger and Mrs. Ron Hufnagle.

The program was presented by Margaret Harper who showed a film on "TEXAS" and discussed the upcoming season of the show.

The next meeting of the Dames will be July 17, when they will tour Irwin's Greenhouse, northwest of the city. Following the tour the group will continue on to the home of Nancy Hands for lunch.

Lay Mission Meets

The Palo Duro Lay Mission had 35 in attendance last Sunday.

Jim Dawson, WT football coach, and a member of Faith Chapel, brought the sermon. Ken and Louise Baker led the music.

On June 22, J. C. Newton, the Mission director will bring the sermon. His son Jay will present a special song. The Bakers will again be in charge of the music.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc., S.W. 2nd Street in Tulia, Texas is pleased to announce that it has made an application for a loan from the Rural Electrification Administration which will provide for the construction of about seven (7) miles, of 69,000 volt transmission line. This line will be located in portions of NE Swisher and SE Randall Counties. There is also planned a substation to be built that will be served from this line.

These facilities, alone with other low voltage distribution lines will make it possible for the Cooperative to improve service and to provide additional capacity when needed to those existing services now being served in the area and new consumers as required.

If there are any comments on the environmental aspect of the proposed construction they should be submitted in writing to the Cooperative either at its office in Tulia or to P.O. Box 67 Tulia, Texas 79088, within thirty (30) days of the publication of this notice. Additional information may be obtained at the Cooperative's office at the above address.

Annex Cost Delayed

Randall County commissioners will have to wait at least another week before learning how much the addition of partitions to their South Amarillo courthouse annex will cost.

Architect Art Vaughan of Amarillo said the general contractor for the job has yet to provide cost estimates on adding sheriff deputy offices and justice of the peace offices to the 15,000 square foot structure.

The building was originally designed to contain only a tax office.

Commissioners voted to give authority to Vaughan to proceed on plans to add partitions for the new offices during their Monday session.

The architect reported work is proceeding as scheduled on the building.

Texas legislators passed a general law during their last session giving counties, including Randall, the authority to construct annex buildings to contain branch sheriff's offices and justice of the peace courts.

In other business Monday, commissioners approved the advertisement for bids for more than 100,000 business forms for the tax office.

They also approved a trip by Juvenile Probation Officer Ron Cowart to Denver to attend a youth conference.

Freeze Food Carefully

By BECKY HALL
County Extension Agent

Tucking food away in the home freezer isn't an automatic guarantee that its quality will remain the same for long periods of time.

The longer the storage period, the greater the loss of quality. Use foods on a 'first-in, first-out' basis to insure best quality.

Careful thawing is also necessary. Freezing inhibits the growth of harmful bacteria, but they can begin growing again during thawing. If food remains at room temperature for three-four hours, illness causing bacteria may multiply.

To avoid this, thaw foods in the refrigerator or under cold running water. Also, the food can be put on to cook before it is completely thawed.

Jowell Nurtures Community Spirit

Webster's dictionary defines "community" as "a society of people having common rights and privileges, or common interests." Such is true of the community called Jowell, located about 15 miles south west of Canyon.

Currently numbering about 70 adults, and almost as many children, the people living in the Jowell "community" have a definite sense of identity as a group. There is no square, no store, or any of the usual landmarks which indicate a community.

Only the old Jowell school house, facing the old ten-mile lane with its two "out houses, stands as the focal point for the sense of community the people feel.

The old school house has not functioned as a school since 1937, and yet the community has seen fit to maintain the building and put it to maximum use. The children of the Jowell community have been bused into Canyon to school for almost 40 years, yet the sense of identity continues.

Every fourth Friday night of the month, the people in the community gather at the school building to eat, socialize, and play '42.' As Mrs. Ray Hinders explains it, not only do local Jowell residents gather for the monthly social, but residents of Hereford, Happy and other surrounding towns who formerly lived in the Jowell area return.

Each month, two hostesses are appointed who call all the residents, remind them of the social, and tell them what food to bring. All the residents share in the cost of upkeep which includes electricity, butane, minor repairs and mowing the grass.

Even though the old building looks somewhat dilapidated, there is also a sturdiness and permanence about it which has no doubt nurtured the sense of community the area enjoys.

The old building not only serves as a monthly meeting place for the residents, but is used by the 4-H Club, for elections, Farm Bureau meetings and other similar meetings. Special Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners are held there by the community also. The Jowell 4-H Club sings carols there at Christmas and then go on to the homes of the shut-ins in Jowell and sing carols for them.

There is no running water and no indoor toilet facilities, and yet the residents have continued to use the school as their community center. Near the stage of the old school stands an imposing pot-bellied wood burning stove with a tall flue. An old piano and an American flag grace the stage, and the old wood plank floor is very smooth and worn, but very stable.

It is probably the sense of stability the old building gives, as well as the will of the people to maintain their identity which has preserved the sense of community.

In August this year, the Jowell Community will have their reunion which is held once every five years, and to which about 75 to 100 people attend, still nurturing that special sense of identity and community.

Pete Leavitt of Jowell and Mrs. Erwin Davis have served as elected officers of the Jowell community center for many years. Officers are elected at the reunions every five years.

The Jowell School was actually built in 1927 and not 1827 as the engraved sign over the door says. The first residents of Jowell settled in the area about 1903.

An imposing pot-bellied stove stands near the old stage at the Jowell School. The American flag graces the stage of the near dilapidated school.

Patricia Montrose Returns To "TEXAS"

Paying a return visit to Canyon this week is British actress, Patricia Montrose.

Two years ago, she spent a week with the outdoor drama "TEXAS" as part of a three-month study tour of American theater for her Churchill Fellowship, and is now looking forward to renewing friendships at her favorite outdoor musical drama.

Just before leaving home to visit the United States, she played the lead in Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo" at Cardiff's Sherman Theatre.

Although she is not Welsh-speaking, her latest television part is in a Welsh language domestic series starring one of her country's best known comedians, Ryan Davies (Richard Burton's seedy companion in the film of Under Milkwood). Explains Pat, "Ryan and his TV family move into a snooty new neighbourhood, and I play their upper class English next door neighbour, so all the scenes with me are in English."

On the successful completion of her Fellowship Tour, Pat was presented with her Churchill Medal by H.R.H. Prince Charles and had an interesting conversation with the Prince on the subject of theater.

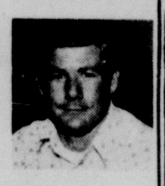
TEXAS TALK



By Tom Lytle

Dead-last with the camel. That's where the experts say beef ranks as a preferred meat in the mid-east. Goat and lamb are way out in front and it'll take some mighty tempting T-bones to turn the tide. This is an Arabic fact-of-life depressing to cattlemen trying to build a fire under the export meat business. On the positive side however, proponents of the U.S. Meat Export Federation say there is major demand for prime beef in many of the European and Asian markets. Organizers of the fledgling federation hope to obtain the blessing of the Foreign Agricultural Service in the near future and establish international offices to promote the sale of U. S. meat throughout the world. Model for the ambitious undertaking is the highly successful National Feed Grains Council whose members have shown how well consistent international promotion works. Japan and Germany are most often mentioned as locations for the first two offices of the new Export Federation.

Eddie Johnson Signs With W.T.

Knox City's fine quarter-miler, Eddie Johnson, is the latest area track star to sign a national letter-of-intent with West Texas State University, Buffalo track coach Bob Kitchens announced this week.

Johnson, a 6-2, 180-pounder, has run a 48.7 in the open 440, but has turned in a 47.5 clocking on a leg in the mile relay.

"I think he may be the best quarter-miler that we have ever recruited here at West Texas State," Kitchens said. "He's a big, strong runner, and that is what excites us about him."

Johnson was regional champion during both his junior and senior years at Knox City, and finished third in the Class AA state meet both years.

He was also an outstanding basketball player, earning all-district honors three times.

Johnson is the second area trackster who has announced for WT. Lubbock Estacado high jumper Tommy Williams earlier signed a national letter with Kitchens.

trollably to form tumors. Some theories predict that cancer is caused by viruses; others say it is damage to the DNA.

While Riehl knows the nicotine affects DNA, it would take hundreds more hours of research to determine how. His research, which will be completed at the end of the summer to earn his master's degree, is probably the first unique analysis of nicotine's affect on DNA in the scientific community.

Riehl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Riehl of Odessa.

Wade Wilhelm Named Outstanding Ag Student

Wade Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilhelm of Umbarger, has received the C.J. "Red" Davidson Scholarship for outstanding achievement in high school agriculture activities.

The $700 scholarship will be awarded at the 47th Annual State FFA Convention to be held July 10 in the Astro Arena in Houston.

Wilhelm can use the scholarship in any field of study at any college or university in Texas.

An active 1975 graduate of Canyon High School, Wilhelm has been the recipient of many awards.

In addition to the C.J. "Red" Davidson Scholarship, he was awarded the Mesa-Agro Scholarship recently for accomplishments made as a student of agriculture. The $250 scholarship was given by Mesa Petroleum Co.

Wilhelm was also given the Dekalb Agri Award this year. The seed company presents the award to the outstanding member of each of the FFA chapters throughout the country.

At the Canyon High School awards assembly which was held prior to the close of the school year, Wilhelm won school-wide awards in math and business. As a member of the dairy judging team, he advanced to area competition.

Commenting on Wilhelm, CHS agriculture instructor Ronnie Hargrove said "no matter what he was told to do or how much notice he was given, Wade always got the job done."

Movies On Tap Sunday

The riotous routing by Laurel and Hardy of a dishonest saloon keeper who has taken a little girl's gold mine will be seen at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum's Sunday afternoon fare June 22.

"Way Out West" is the boisterous comedy, also featuring the Avalon Boys, which will be shown at 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. in the museum's new lecture hall on the second floor of the main building.

Heavyweights Mae West and W.C. Fields will verbally duel in "My Little Chickadee" June 29. Each wrote their own material for this famous feature film, whose wedding sequence in which Ms. West substitutes a goat for herself in the nuptial bed gives Fields a rare chance to perform verbal surgery on her.

July will be Bicentennial month at the museum, and the Sunday afternoon flicks will open with the muscal "1776," to be followed by several Walt Disney movies on American colonial times.

which are within the standard metropolitan statistical areas of larger cities — were left out of funding by HUD through a mathematical error earlier this year.

HUD officials told local city planners last fall $760,000 would be available for Canyon development over the next six years, with about $30,000 available the first year.

Loudder said he does not know whether the bill passed by Congress to cover HUD's error will appropriate the full funding for the six-year period.

City officials had originally earmarked the funding for the first year for paving of streets in the western portion of Canyon.

Other projects discussed should the full $760,000 be available include partial funding for operation of a senior citizens center, and park and recreation facilities.

appointed Moore and Richard Pruett to meet with him and Jacobs at 7:30 p.m. Monday to go over names for two committees which will be formed by the board to study the needs for new schools and financing available for new schools.

A Citizens Advisory Committee for Quality Education is to be formed to survey the needs for new schools, suggest or recommend solutions to the school board, and then to disseminate information about their proposals.

A similar Citizens Advisory Committee for Sound Financing will also be formed by the board to review the present financial status of the district, to eye bond issue possibilities and to recommend action to the board.

Formation of the two committees is a first step in the board's effort to push for a bond issue to raise about $5 million next fall for construction of a new high school and a new elementary school for the Canyon district.

West Texas State Bank of Canyon was low bidder to become the official depository for school funds for the next two years.

The bank outbid First National Bank on interest rates to be paid and charged the district.

Mrs. Olan Lehman and Mrs. Jimmy Marrs of the Heritage Woman's Club present Mr. Ray Grimes, administrator of Palo Duro Hospital with a check for $500. Baptism. . .

in the church's history.

The Rev. Darrold Baldwin, associate pastor of the church, said as far as he's able to determine the outdoor baptism of the four young girls Sunday was the first such outdoor ceremony in the 50 years since the church building was constructed on 4th Avenue in the city.

In 1926, when the new church was constructed, a baptistry was built in behind the pulpit in the auditorium and Baldwin said the normal routine for baptism is for them to be inside the church.

Now, as the church structure undergoes massive remodeling, forcing the church's congregation to use the Canyon Junior High auditorium for Sunday services, church leaders felt it was a good time to try an outdoor baptism service.

The service, which began at 5 p.m., was brief with about 40 persons in attendance.

Those baptized were Kim and Konetta Scott, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Scott, Kym Rolen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rolen, and Deanna Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Henderson.

Newton was prime mover in the effort to have the baptism service in the out-of-doors.

He says his own baptism 42 years ago in a cattle tank outside Farwell was so meaningful to him he wanted to see it repeated.

"We cleaned out the stock tank and let the windmill pump water in and had the service in the afternoon and there were 11 of us there," he said of his own service. "I was 16 or 17 years old. This impressed me."

Former W.T. Prof Hired By A.C.

Dr. Wallace Johnston, a professor in the industrial education department at West Texas State university, has been named Dean of the School of Technology at Amarillo College.

AC regents hired Johnston during their Tuesday night meeting.

Johnston, who will retain his Canyon home, will have a salary of $22,500 per year.

He was head of the industrial education department until last year.

Johnston holds three degrees, including an educational doctorate, from Texas A&M University.

"Kids Are Jumping And Parents Are Pooped!"

By KAROLYN FARMER

AH, SUMMER, A time to relax and take it easy. Well, anyway that's what the song says. Maybe somewhere the "fish are jumping and the cotton is high"—but around our neighborhood the "kids are jumping and the parents are pooped." But as one commercial says, "I'm ready for anything." I've got the car keys in one hand and my bottle of vitamins in the other. Now, if we could just find some way to pay for the gas.

SEVEN OF OUR girls from Gene Howe are combining hard work and a lot of fun this week as they prepare to become Canyon basketball stars.

Cathy Call, Debra Drost, Dena Harp, Kaki Mulherin, Carla Schmidt, Shelley Shenk and Denise Tennison are all attending the Wayland Flying Queens Basketball Camp in Plainview.

Several of the parents took the girls to camp this past Sunday. The sessions officially began on Monday and the girls will return home on Saturday.

Coach Bob Schneider of Canyon is one of the two coaches for the camp, along with Dean Weese who is the coach of the Wayland Flying Queens.

JO DELANEY HAD also planned to attend basketball camp but a minor mishap turned into a major disappointment. On Friday the 13th Jo fell on the trampoline and chipped a bone in her little finger. She not only missed out on going to camp, but will also have to give up swimming and playing baseball on the 6th grade girls' team.

* * *

LEONARD AND GEORGE Schmidt were pacing the field before the start of their team's game this past Monday evening. Because of the basketball camp several of the starting lineup were missing and some of the girls had to play in new positions.

Fortunately, however, the girls who were there played a great game and beat the team from San Jacinto by 20 to 9.

Even though his daughter Debra was away at camp, Ken Drost did his part by keeping score for the game.

Kelli Campbell also did her part by hitting the only home run of the game.

Playing on the 6th grade girls' team this year are: Cyndy Stapleton, Cindy Nuzum, Kaki Mulherin, LaMelva Fry, Shelley Shenk, Jana Tipps, Jo Delaney, Gina Moore, Dena Harp, Tracy Gillis, Leslie Lichte, Kim Langford, Debra Drost, Carla Schmidt, Kelli Campbell and Lana Lindsey.

* * *

MR. WALTER SCHMIDT arrived last week for a visit with his sons George and Leonard and their families. Mr. Schmidt lives in Sioux City, Iowa.

MARLA AND MIKE Shadix celebrated their second wedding anniversary on Tuesday, June 10th. Marla is the daughter of Billy and Margie Phillips.

Mike, who is the assistant golf pro at the Amarillo Country Club, had even more reason to celebrate this past week. He hit a hole-in-one while playing on the Country Club course.

BOB AND CARLENE Curley, former residents of the Gene Howe area, are in the process of moving back either to our area or to Canyon.

Bob is with the Muzak Corporation and is already living here. Carlene and the children, Lucinda, Belinda, Byron and Andrea, will be joining him as soon as their home in Atlanta, Ga., is sold.

GLANDEEN AND JOHN Shenk were in San Antonio this past week end for the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Convention. Glandeen said it was hot-hot while they were there, but they enjoyed the convention meetings and the banquet, along with some sightseeing. Visiting the Alamo, the Needle, a boat ride and dinner on the river were on the Shenks' agenda during their stay in San Antonio.

A few days' vacation was probably much needed by Glandeen and John, who have been working especially hard these past few months. Two months ago they opened a new store in the Martindale Shopping Center called The Work Boot. The store carries several brands of work boots and shoes as well as leisure shoes.

The Shenks also own Gatlin's Department Store in Fleetwood Shopping Center and the Red Wing Shoe Store in Mayco Shopping Center.

The Shenks have also been busy entertaining several guests in their home in the past month. Glandeen's brother, John McDivitt, his wife Mary and their three children came from Illinois for a visit and to attend the wedding of their other brother in Canyon.

John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shenk of Lake Buchanan, Tex., have also been here for a visit.

LARRY AND DEE Delaney spent several days last week sightseeing and shopping in El Paso and Juarez. They brought home leather belts for the children and a few other leather articles for themselves.

This was Dee's first trip to Juarez and she said although they did a lot of shopping, they didn't find too much that was worth buying. Dee said their visit to Mexico also made her appreciate our country a lot more.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 112 recently attended the Boy Scout Jamboree at Camp Don Harrington, along with about 1000 boys from all over the Panhandle. Their Scout Master is Don Glenn and Darrell Glenn is the Jr. Scout Master.

The Comanche Patrol of Troop 112 took part in the "Be Prepared" Competition held during the Jamboree and won 2nd in the Council. Their competition will be written up in a future issue of Boy's Life Magazine.

Darrell Glenn explained to me how the competition was run (and I hope I can explain it to you so that it makes sense).

The boys in each patrol lined up and the first one received a card with instructions to carry out a Scouting skill, such as tying a specific knot.

There were 48 cards used in the competition. And the patrol that accomplished the most tasks were declared the winner. Darrell told me that the Comanche Patrol also beat out the Instructor Patrol, for which they were very proud.

KEN CATES AND Tim Seth left for Camp Don Harrington on June 15th and will be there until this Saturday. They are members of Boy Scout Troop 97.

THE 1ST GRADE T-ball team played a tough game on Monday, June 16th. They lost to the team from Olsen Park School by a score of 36 to 31. All the boys played hard and they were cheered on by a lot of their parents.

Home run hitters on the Gene Howe team were Steve Adee, Rob Bulla, Todd Wilcox and Tino Holdman. Tony Warren hit two home runs in the game.

Playing on the 1st grade team this year are Shane Palmer, Tino Holdman, Rod Wilcox, Todd Wilcox, Ernie Chedester, Tony Warren, Tyron Walker, Rob Bulla, Greg Cates, Chad Merritt, Steven Adee, Mike Cunningham, Danny Hawkins and Bobby Winters.

Their coaches are Larry Cunningham, Ricky Warren, Henry Holdman and Jay Merritt.

JAY MERRITT MAY have to hit his golf ball with his crutches instead of his clubs for the next few weeks. Last week he made it to the 9th green at the country club course in Perryton when he stepped in a hole and suffered a badly sprained left ankle.

He managed the drive home but the Merritts spent the rest of the evening in the emergency room at Northwest Texas Hospital.

* * *

GUY AND MIKE Bailey are also getting in a lot of golf this summer. Last Friday both boys competed in the West Texas Chapter PGA Jr. Tournament held at the Canyon Country Club.

Guy placed 2nd in the 12 and 13 year old division with a 78 score. Mike shot an 88 and placed 10th in the competition.

This week the boys, along with their mother, Sue, are in Wichita Falls for the Texas-Oklahoma Jr. Tournament.

THE 5TH GRADE girls' softball team, coached by Euris Phipps, is still on a winning streak with six wins and no losses.

This past week they beat Lawndale by 15 to 12; they won against Pleasant Valley by 20 to 0; and they beat the team from Panhandle by a score of 13 to 1.

SUSAN PAETZOLD IS the newest member of the 5th grade girls' softball team. The Paetzolds purchased their home in Lake Tanglewood about a year and a half ago, but Mrs. Paetzold, Susan and her brother, stayed in Hereford to finish out this past school year.

Besides Susan, Raymond and Betty Paetzold have four grown sons. They are the owners of Hominy Feeds which is located on Hollywood Road.

Betty told me that they're not really strangers to Lake Tanglewood, having spent last summer in their home there. Raymond has also been living in their home this past winter, while the rest of his family commuted from Hereford on week ends.

JOHN HICKS COMPETED in the Aquatic Club Novice Meet on May the 31st. He placed 2nd in the 50 free, 3rd in the 25 free, and 3rd in the 50 back events.

John is a relatively newcomer to competitive swimming and his whole family is really proud of his accomplishments.

JUNE 10TH IS a popular day for birthdays in our area. Karol Hicks and Danny Sellers both celebrated their 16th birthdays, while Glenna Schmidt and Gayle Betty just celebrated, (ages and expletives deleted!).

JAY TIPPS CELEBRATED his 11th birthday on June 12th and was surprised with a trail bike by his parents. Now he's officially a member of the Gene Howe "Heaven's Angels," who roar by our house with deafening regularity.

(Actually the boys in the neighborhood haven't really formed a motorcycle club—that's just a name I made up for all the little darlings). And since both of our boys are doing their share of the roaring, I certainly can't complain.

I CALLED CAROL Triplett this week to see what was happening out in their part of the county. She tells me that she and Lloyd and all their neighbors are involved in the wheat harvest and don't have much time for anything else.

The day I talked to Carol she had been keeping busy running to Canyon, Claude and Amarillo getting parts for their equipment.

MELBA AND GERALD Thompson, Tonya and Kimberly recently spent a few days camping out at Lake Brownwood. Melba said it rained every other day, which kind of put a damper on their fun. But they still managed to get in a lot of fishing, boating, water skiing and swimming.

The Thompsons were joined on their vacation trip by Melba's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Widener, and Melba's sister, Lavelda Kennedy and her two children.

COREY, JANA AND Amy Ford are on a two week tour of Florida with their grandmother, Mrs. Earl Ford. They left on June the 7th and spent a day in Biloxi, Miss., before going on to visit Disney World, Cyprus Gardens and other points of interest in Florida.

They are the children of Tommy and Linda Ford.

SUMMER VACATIONS HAVE really taken their toll on the A & S hardball team coached by Kyle Farmer and Bob Trook. Last Sunday they had a make-up game with a team from Whittier School. Only nine of the fourteen boys on the team were able to come, but they managed to win the bame by a score of 24 to 7.

BILLY AND SARAH Edwards, Shannon and Jay spent this last week touring much of Colorado. They had intended to set up camp in Colorado Springs and drive to all the sites from there.

However, Bill and Pat Seth recommended that they stay at Woodland Park because of the beautiful scenery, etc. So would you believe that last week Woodland Park got a 15 inch snowfall; and would you also believe that the Edwards were snowed in.

Luckily the Edwards' camper had a heater in it. But Sarah said the condensation inside the camper caused it to rain inside while it was snowing outside.

Sarah also told me that the kids really enjoyed playing in the snow and having snowball fights. (I forgot to ask her if she just meant Shannon and Jay — or whether "Billy the Kid" got in on some of the action, too).

The Edwards family took in all the fun places in that part of Colorado. They especially enjoyed the Cave of the Winds, the Rocky Mountain Zoo, and the Garden of the Gods.

They also went to Cripple Creek where they went 1000 feet underground in an old gold mine shaft and saw how the mining was actually done.

Another interesting part of the trip was their stop at Capulin, an inactive volcano. Sarah said they walked down into the volcano and immediately noticed the trees growing there were a bright red color.

Upon closer inspection, they found the trees to be covered with lady bugs, which they were told migrate in great swarms to the volcano.

If there's one thing for sure, it's that the Edwards don't lead a dull life, and their vacation trip certainly proves that point.

* * *

THE 2ND GRADE boys' T-ball team played an exciting game on Monday, June 16th against South Georgia. The game ran into an extra inning and our boys finally won by a score of 43 to 42.

Walter Morris, Lynn Vanlandingham and Royal Yarbrough all hit home runs.

The senior Royal Yarbrough is the team coach and helping out as assistants are Billy Edwards and Johnny Hicks.

The boys who make up the team are Delbert Hollis, Brett Copeland, Royal Yarbrough, John Hicks, Jay Edwards, Dub Austin, Walter Morris, Glin Moore, Donnie Myers, Lynn Vanlandingham, Scott Kozak, Chris Seth, Ronnie Jenson and Dewayne Kyle.

MRS. ROYAL YARBROUGH (Chris) was involved in an automobile accident on Tuesday, June 20th. Chris was driving north on Western when an out-of-state car pulled out from the access road of the Canyon Expressway and hit her car.

The Yarbrough's car was totaled in the wreck. Chris was taken by ambulance to the emergency room at Northwest Texas Hospital where she had several stitches in her tongue. She also sustained a mild concussion and an injury to her right foot.

Chris told me that the children were not in the car with her at the time, for which she was really thankful.

She's having a little trouble talking and eating and hopes to get the stitches out of her tongue very soon.

The City of Amarillo keeps promising to correct the problem at that particular intersection. But I wonder how many serious accidents will have to take place there before they finally do.

CINDY AND STEVE Wilson, the children of Pete and Sylvia Wilson, were also involved in an automobile accident this past week.

Cindy was driving Steve to the Farmer's home where the baseball team was gathering for a game that evening. As she attempted to pass a car on McCormick Road just west of the Wilson's home, the other car swerved over and Cindy had to turn sharply to avoid a collision.

As she turned Cindy lost control and the car ran through the bar ditch and into the Gerald Jacobs home on McCormick Road, demolishing both the car and one wall of the house.

Both Cindy and Steve received several bruises and minor head injuries. Steve's front tooth was knocked out and Cindy hurt one knee pretty badly. They were both taken by ambulance to Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The car which was responsible for the Wilson's wreck didn't even stop, but continued on west on McCormick. Cindy and Steve both said that the man driving was elderly and that the car was a white sports car with a black stripe on the side.

It was really a miracle that both young people were not hurt worse. And it's also really unbelievable to me that the man responsible either did not even notice or just didn't care enough to stop and help.

* * *

WAYNE AND LINDA Hawkins, Daryl and Danny returned home this past Monday from a trip to South Texas. They visited the Alamo and other missions in San Antonio and also went to Padre Island and Corpus Christi.

The Hawkins' one big disappointment was that while they were in Houston they didn't get to see a ballgame in the Astrodome because the Houston team was playing out of town.

Linda told me that this was her first trip to this part of Texas and that the scenery was really beautiful.

ATTENTION TO ALL of you parents who bought tickets for your children to attend the Summer Movie Series at the Fox Theatre:

The Monday and Tuesday showings have been canceled due to the small attendance on those days.

If you have tickets for Monday or Tuesday, they will be honored on either Wednesday or Thursday at 10:00, 10:30, 12:30 or 1:00. (Your choice of day and time).

IF YOUR FAMILY is planning a trip this summer, I sincerely hope that you'll have a very safe and happy one. And I also hope you'll call me and tell me about it.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Flora Middleton Honored On 96th Birthday

Mrs. Flora Middleton of Canyon was honored on the occasion of her 96th birthday Sunday with a dinner hosted by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Middleton of Happy.

All six of her children and their families were in attendance at the birthday dinner including Jack Middleton of Tulia; Calvin Middleton of Del Norte, Colo.; Mrs. Lucille Thompson of Lubbock; Mrs. Maxine Black of Borger; and Mildred Middleton of Canyon and Willard Middleton who hosted the dinner.

Twelve grandchildren and their families also attended including Ronnie Middleton and family of Tulia; Mrs. Janet Hutto and family of Borger; David and Becky Middleton of Del Norte, Colo.; Tom Middleton and family of Post; Jerry and Terry Thompson of Lubbock; Mrs. Julia Meir and family of Amarillo; Phil Black and wife of Lubbock; Don Ed Middleton of Dawn, and Mrs. Jan Irlbeck and family of Tulia.

Also attending was Mrs. Mabel Holloway of Happy, mother of Mrs. Willard Middleton.

A nephew, Clifford Rodgers of Long Beach, Calif. also attended.

Cake was served and gifts were opened following the dinner.

Mrs. Middleton is the wife of the late F.D.C. Middleton who was a long time area farmer. The Middletons moved to the Canyon area in 1926.

The three and four year olds at the First United Methodist Church enjoy swinging during a break from their classes.

Church School Starts For City Youngsters

The combined Vacation Church School of the Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian, Episcopal and Catholic churches of Canyon is in progress with 164 children enrolled and 68 teachers and assistants participating.

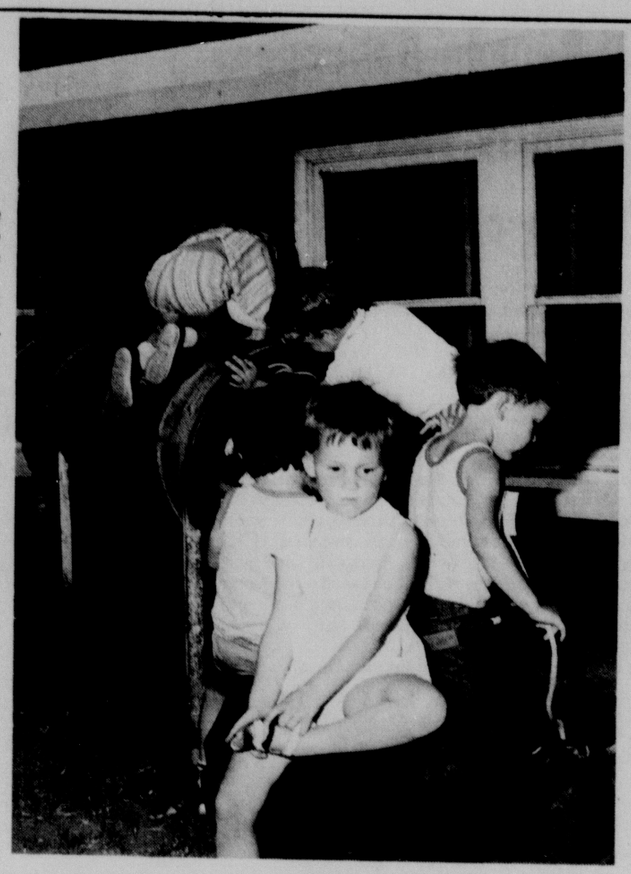
Each age level is meeting at various churches and have different themes for their studies. The pre-schoolers are meeting at the First United Methodist Church and their theme is "I Can Choose." Kindergarten children, also meeting at First United Methodist are studying "How God Cares."

First and Second graders are meeting at the First Presbyterian Church and their theme is "The Bible Helps Us Know God." "Bible Lands and Times" is the topic of study for third and fourth graders at the new First Christian Church.

With an emphasis on ecology, the fifth and sixth graders are meeting at the Day Camp in Palo Duro Canyon studying the theme "Responsible Before God."

Offerings from the Vacation Church School will be given to CROP, Christian Relief Overseas Program. Mrs. J. Pat Stephens is serving as overall coordinator of the Church School this year. Coordinators from other participating churches are, Vicki Stocker of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Hazel Strickland, Alta Smith and David Cameron of First United Methodist Church, Peggy Trosper of the First Christian Church, Nancy Hainey of the Episcopal Church, and Jan Welch and Jane Stephens of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Vacation Church School will conclude Friday with picnics at Palo Duro Canyon for the fifth and sixth graders and at Conner Park for the younger children.



Three and four year olds attending the Vacation Church School sponsored by five churches in Canyon are taking a "play break" from their study theme "I Can Choose." Preschoolers and Kindergarten children are meeting at the First United Methodist Church. Other churches participating in the Vacation Church School include First Presbyterian, First Christian, St. Ann's Catholic and the Episcopal Chapel of St. George.

Registration Still Open For Classes

Students will still have a chance to register for one of five different West Texas State University Summer School Short Courses offered June 23-July 10 if it will be the only course they will be taking at WT.

The registration will be the first day of class at its scheduled location. The WTSU Summer Class Schedule should be checked for detailed information.

In arts and sciences, the courses available are Modern Mathematics, an analysis of the properties of mathematical systems taught by Dr. Fletcher Moseley from 7:30-10:20 a.m., and Spanish Composition and Reading, which is work in grammar, composition and prose to be taught at 7:30 and 10:30 a.m. by Dr. Tarrab.

In education, Dr. Carl Pride will teach a class in Individual Mental Testing from 1:30-4:30 p.m., and will look at the administration, scoring and interpretation of several individual intelligence tests. Learning Disabilities, a survey of methods to teach students with learning disabilities, will be taught by Dr. Wilma Jo Bush from 7:30-10:20 a.m. Both education courses are for graduate credit.

The Choral Conductors Workshop will be offered from June 23-27. Dr. Lynn Whitten, nationally-known choral conductor from the University of Colorado, will teach the class from 12-3 p.m.

Total tuition and fee cost for three hours is $46.95. More information can be obtained from the registrar at telephone 656-3331.

Many From Canyon On Dean's List At WT

Almost 19 per cent of West Texas State University's 4058 undergraduate students studied their way to a place on the Dean's Honor Roll.

These 755 students achieved at least a 2.25 grade point average on a three point scale for the spring semester 1975.

"In a university which is described as a community of scholars, the students on the Dean's Honor Roll are our most outstanding honor citizens," said Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU vice-president for academic affairs.

Palo Duro's Neil Burum Signs With W.T.

Amarillo Palo Duro's Neil Burum became the third high schooler, to announce for West Texas State this week when he signed a national letter-of-intent with Buffalo track coach Bob Kitchens.

Burum, a 13'6" pole vaulter, follows in the footsteps of another PD ex who went on to a pair of Missouri Valley Conference championships for the Buffs.

"He had the same type high school career as Warren Snow who won MVC pole vault titles for us in 1972 and '73," Kitchens said. "He's the same type vaulter and the same type young man. We're just real pleased to have him."

Hot Days Call For Swimming At Siesta

By DORIS McKEE

HERE GOES FOR all the latest happenings out Siesta way. Everyone is really taking advantage of the hot days, by putting in a lot of swimming time.

WE HOPE ALL you dad's had a real nice day, Sunday. I let my hubby celebrate by barbecuing. Sure was good eating.

* * *

SURE DO WISH all you guys would give me a call when you return from your vacations and let us hear all about the good times you had.

* * *

CHARLES AND CLARICE Heglin of 100 Loma Linda went on a camp-out this weekend to Green Belt Lake. Clarice said they had a real nice time and that the weather was beautiful.

JAMES, LINDA AND Christy Grumke of 127 La Fiesta had weekend guest. Linda's folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Morris of Childress and Linda's brother Ronald and wife Marsha of Omaha, Neb. visited.

Seems Ronald is just out of the Air Force, as of Monday, June 9th. He and Marsha are very hopeful of making Canyon or Amarillo their residence. They will be staying with James and Linda until they can get a place of their own.

* * *

HUGH ROWLEY, KNOWN to most of us as Uncle Skinny, made a trip to Waco over the weekend.

* * *

JOE AND OLETA Carlton of 115 Siesta started to Pampa this weekend, only to meet their kids and grandkids just out of Amarillo. They all went to Thompson Park for a picnic and the grand kids enjoyed Wonderland.

* * *

TIM AND SUSAN Padgett and family of 225 La Fiesta recently had a nice visit from Cindy (Susan's sister) and Donnie Poshigoda.

* * *

LARRY AND NORMA Weeter and family of 134 La Fiesta had a nice visit on Sunday with Paul and Elizabeth Mackey and family of Lubbock.

* * *

PHIL, JEAN AND Terry Mayfield of 144 Loma Linda had guests for lunch on Sunday. A married daughter, Celetta Rodgers and a grandson, Keith Rodgers, Jr. also Mike and Cynthia Mills of Canyon. Everyone had a nice visit and a good time.

* * *

JACK AND MARGIE Buckner of 129 La Fiesta went to a family reunion over the weekend. It was held in Abilene State Park. There was lots of good food and visiting. They camped out Friday and Saturday nights and returned home late Sunday.

TALKED TO EUNICE Rinehart of 139 La Fiesta. She and Barney had a couple of grandsons' out for lunch on Sunday. Tom McWilliams Jr., of Albuquerque and Mark McWilliams of Amarillo. Laine McWilliams, another grandson, came out and spent Sunday night.

* * *

JEAN MAYFIELD OF 144 Loma Linda was in Irving, Texas recently to bowl in the Women's State Bowling Tournament. There were five others went with her, Earline Dickerson, (Jean's mother), Betty Thompson, Lynn Gynn, Wanda and Irene. This team was sponsored by Marty's Steak House. They won't know how they placed until August. Jean, Earline and Betty all did win patches. Congratulations, ladies.

* * *

I PACKED UP my son, Tod and sent him to Midwest City, Okla. last Saturday. He rode up with Dale, Pearl and Dusty West, formerly of Siesta, now of Country Estates. The Wests are on a weeks vacation, but Tod will be staying with a friend, Johnny McClain and his family for a couple of weeks.

* * *

THERE WAS REALLY some hard work going on at 131 La Fiesta Saturday and Sunday. Albert and Katie Rinne undertook the project of black topping their driveways. It was a big job but they finished it and I must say it really does look nice.

* * *

OH YES, WE would like to wish Norma Weeter's grandmother, Daisy Hale of Borger, a speedy recovery. She is in High Plains Baptist Hospital, where she had surgery on Monday, June 16th. Norma visited her on Monday afternoon. She was doing okay.

* * *

ON SATURDAY, JUNE 21st, starting at 12:30 p.m. in the Siesta Sub-division there will be an auction. If you'd like to be a landowner, then come on over and put in a bid. There are several lots to be placed on the block. For more information, check the ad in the classified ads.

* * *

TIME TO SAY so long for this week, but do keep on reading.

Thought for this week:

"Patience are like butter, sometimes they will run away with you, sometimes they are hard to slice, and then again, they are entirely too soft."

See ya.

Two Win Scholarships

Two Canyon students have been awarded Edna Graham Scholarships at West Texas State University.

Clay Harper of 2106 Third Ave. will receive a $300 scholarship for academic year 1975-76, while WTSU student Kathy Payne will receive $200. She is the wife of Jimmy Payne of Route 1.

These students were selected for their outstanding scholarship and their commitments to mathematics, according to Dr. Hollis Cook, head of the WTSU Department of Mathematics.

The musical-drama "TEXAS" opened Wednesday night in Palo Duro Canyon's Pioneer Amphitheatre to a crowd of founders and supporters who aided in the early effort 10 years ago to produce the show. The drama will play nightly through Aug. 23 except Sundays in the theatre. Tickets are available at the box office in Canyon.

Shower Honors Miss Johnson

Miss Janna Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson, of Canyon, and bride-elect of Mike Wartes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wartes, of Hereford, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. O. G. Nieman, 324 Douglas, Hereford, Thursday afternoon, June 12, 1975, from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Nieman, Mrs. Wartes, Janna and Mrs. Johnson.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of sky blue and white were carried out in the decorations. A crystal epergne filled with blue and white daisies centered the blue and white cutwork tablecloth. Cake squares, nuts, and punch were served.

Presiding at the bride's book were Mrs. Ronnie Wooten, of Brownfield, sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Jan Westfall, Chi Omega sister of the bride-elect. Serving punch and cake were Miss Roma Johnson, sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Susan Wartes, sister of the groom-to-be.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ginger Hale and Mrs. W. O. Wartes, Lubbock, maternal and paternal grandmothers of the groom-to-be. Mrs. W.J. Wooten, Jr., of Canyon, also attended. Approximately 75 guests attended.

Assisting Mrs. Nieman as hostesses were: Mrs. W. E. Sparks, Mrs. Floyd Cole, Mrs. Wayne Thomas, Mrs. Frank Prowell, Mrs. Virgil Marsh, Mrs. J.R. Oglesby, Mrs. Calvin Goodin, Mrs. Gene Huntsinger, Mrs. W. H. Kitchens, and Mrs. Pat Hughes.

Ten Win Service Scholarships

Ten new West Texas State University Campus Services students have been selected for academic year 1975-76.

For a $400 scholarship each semester, the students serve as official hosts and hostesses for the University, working 10 hours in the director of development's office assisting the admissions advisors and taking campus tours.

"I am very pleased to have this caliber of students. They are a tremendous asset not only to WT, but to their hometowns," said Director of Development Keith Winter. "They will be leaders of this University because of the training they will receive with Campus Services."

The incoming freshmen named are Spearman High School valedictorian Debbie Sheppard, Amarillo High School valedictorian Deidre Hester, Clay Moore of Amarillo, Sandra Vance of Pampa, Lin Mays of Hereford, Wellington High School valedictorian Betty Burba, Calvin DeWitt of Canadian, Merkel High School salutatorian James Whorton, Shonnie Lewis of Kermit and Alonzo Ramos of Abernathy.

News Brief

Rodney A. DeMoss of Canyon has been named to the Dean's List at Southwestern Oklahoma State University for the spring term. Students on the list maintained grade-point averages of B with no individual course grades below C.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it — and so do its readers.

FESTIVAL PREVIEW — Jowell 4-H Club members Hilda Hartman, Nancy Hartman and Kaye McCasland demonstrate outdoor rub-board washing at the Jowell School in preparation for the July 4th Festival in Conner Park. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCasland.

Rub-Board Washing Slated For Festival

For those who have forgotten, or who never had the "pleasure" of washing in number 2 tubs using a rub-board, the Jowel 4-H Club will demonstrate the lost art at the Festival in Conner Park on July 4th.

The Jowell 4-H Club meets regularly at the old Jowell School House and is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCasland.

While most of the girls in the Jowell 4-H Club have never washed the old fashioned way, they investigated the subject and will share their information with the observers at the Festival. They will even let observers "rub" a few towels if they like.

In pioneer days rain barrels were strategically placed around a farm house to catch water for washing. On "wash day," which was traditionally Monday, the farm wife would build a fire in the yard under her black iron kettle, placing it where the smoke would not blow in her face.

When the rain water reached boiling she would pour it in her number 2 tubs which usually sat on a bench. One tub for washing, one for rinsing. The farm wife would then shave a whole cake of lye soap into the wash water. After rubbing the dirtier clothes on the rub-board, she would boil the clothes in the kettle over the fire.

After boiling the clothes she would remove them from the kettle with a broom handle, or a stick, and place them in the rinse water for rinsing, bluing and starching. Many pioneer women starched their clothes with flour water.

To dry the clothes, she would hang them over a nearby fence or even lay the towels and sheets on the grass, bushes and trees.

Since water was usually a scarce commodity, it was put to many uses. The rinse water was poured over the flowers and the soapy wash water was used to scrub the porches. The tubs were then turned over to dry.

Rub-board washing is a far cry from the modern automatic washing that most women use today. After watching the Jowell 4-H girls demonstrate how our foremothers lived, we can better appreciate the pioneers who settled and civilized our Panhandle.

Chamber Still Accepting Polls

The women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce is still accepting the brief polls which they hope will give some indication, when tallied, of how local citizens view the city.

The poll sheets have been distributed to various grocery stores, banks and other businesses here where they are available for citizens interested in filling them out.

They should be returned as soon as possible to the chamber office or to Mrs. Evelyn Trice at the West Texas State Bank.

The surveys ask general and specific questions about citizens' attitudes concerning city services and facilities.

College isn't the only place to continue your education.

You may not join the Army to get a college education, but it may end up that way.

Last year alone, 90,000 young men and women earned college credits while serving in the Army. And the Army paid up to 75% of the tuition.

And now, through the Army's newest educational program, Project Ahead, you can enlist in the Army and start college at the same time.

Hobby Leads To New Business

A wife's hobby and a desire to live in Canyon and have "something of our own" have led to the establishment of the city's newest business, The Jewelry Store, on the north side of the Square.

The Jewelry Store is owned and operated by Dennis and Martha Bethel of 715 Foster Lane.

The store, located next door to Haley's Printing & Office Supply, features watch and jewelry repair as well as Seike watches, jewelry, bridal sets, bracelets, rings, watch bands and custom designed jewelry.

"Six months ago we talked about moving," said Bethel, a salesman for 10 years covering West Texas for Ekco hardwares.

"She has been talking about this jewelry store for about a year,' he said. "He thought I'd forget about it but I didn't," Mrs. Bethel added.

"We felt Canyon needed a jewelry store," Bethel said. "It seemed like a good business, a fascinating business.

"I don't want to work for someone else the rest of my life. She knows how to make jewelry. We wanted something of our own and we wanted to stay in Canyon."

Mrs. Bethel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Guinn of Amarillo and a native of Clarendon, became interested in jewelry design and casting through her brother, Arden Guinn, who operates Scultura Studio in Amarillo.

"Her brother started casting jewelry for Amarillo stores four years ago," Bethel said. "He also has classes and she took his class."

Mr. and Mrs. Bethel have lived in Canyon four years, coming here from Amarillo. They have two daughters, Pamela, 12, and Meridith, 5.

Garden Club Holds Picnic

The Canyon Garden Club met last Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Paul Glovier home, northwest of Amarillo; for their annual picnic.

The picnic was the last meeting of the year for the club and was attended by 23 members and one visitor, Mrs. Billy Woody of Dumas.

Following the picnic a short business meeting was conducted by the outgoing president, Mrs. Ray Wells.

New officers were installed including Mrs. Paul Glovier, president, Mrs. Irene Beard, vice president, Irma Money, secretary, and Bill Downing, treasurer.

The first meeting of the new club year will be September 16, at the Tom Beard home for a salad supper.

Mrs. Flossie Johnson was acknowledged as the club's newest member.

News Brief

The Farmer Browns of Canyon have returned from a trip to Northern New Mexico where they found the fishing poor to good. The Browns were accompanied on the trip by Archie and Peggy Davis and John Harry Hardaway. Brown reported poor fishing at Alvada Heron Lakes. They did get good pike fishing at Cons Lake, however.
